Dear Ms. O'Reilly:

Enclosed is a signed consent for access relating to the RJ Refining Site and the Silver Eagle Refining Site at LaBarge, Wyoming.

I would like to take this opportunity to give you some idea of my involvement with the RJ Refining Site and the Silver Eagle Refining Site. My father, Reland Johnson, and I built a small plant called Southwestern Refining Company in the summer of 1969. Southwestern Refining was a predecessor to RJ Refining, and consisted of a small distillation plant as opposed to the typical idea of a Large Refinery with a Cracking Unit.

I worked with my Father at Southwestern Refining until 1972, at that time I returned to Salt Lake City, Utah to pursue other interests. From 1972 until the present time my only involvement with the Southwestern Property was to visit from time to time. I had no involvement with the Silver Eagle Property and in fact the Silver Eagle Facility was built after I left LaBarge.

I hope the information I have provided gives you some help, If you need additional information please call or write.

Yours truly
